Chopsticks Mania Takes Over Hearts Christian College

BY PETER MATANGIRA

Hearts Christian College's Chinese department, led by the dedicated Laoshi Nyasha, recently embarked on an exciting initiative that brought the world of Chinese culture closer to its young learners. The Grade 1 and 2 students were treated to a unique and engaging experience – a practical lesson on using chopsticks!

The innovative project, aptly titled "Chinese Chopsticks Fun," aimed to immerse students in the art of using chopsticks while enjoying a delicious meal of spaghetti and meat. To make this initiative possible, the school engaged parents, who generously contributed $1 per learner to cover the costs of materials.

The event, which took place on Wednesday, July 9, was a resounding success. The school's kitchen staff and class teachers worked tirelessly to prepare the meal, while Laoshi Nyasha guided the students through the intricacies of chopstick etiquette. The highlight of the lesson was the hands-on experience, where students got to practice their newfound skills under the watchful eyes of their teachers.

The event was captured on camera, showcasing the joy and excitement on the students' faces as they mastered the art of using chopsticks. The initiative not only taught the students a new skill but also fostered teamwork, fine motor skills, and cultural appreciation.

The Hearts Christian College community is proud of Laoshi Nyasha and the team for conceptualizing this engaging and educational experience. The success of this project is a testament to the school's commitment to providing holistic education and nurturing young minds.

Kudos to the students, teachers, and parents who made this initiative a memorable one!
